Most restaurants are usually on busy streets with a lot of foot traffic. Among various types of restaurants, I prefer going to Korean restaurants. First, in Korean restaurants, people can sit on the floor. Although new and recently opened restaurants have tables and chairs, floor seating areas are usually available as well. People sit on the floor and eat at a low table.

Another difference is that the main dish (the drinks are) is served along with small portions of side dishes and rice in Korean restaurants. (It's like finger food in the U.S.) Also, Kimchi is served at every Korean restaurant. Also, at some restaurants, you can grill the meat right at the table. Because the grill is usually built into a table, you can have tasty food on the spot. This is something only Korean restaurants offer.

Well, this is what Korea restaurants look like. That's all I can think of at the moment.

2. 최근 외식 경험

The last time I had pizza was at a pizza place in Itaewon with my friends. It took about 30 minutes to get there from where I live. There was a restaurant I always wanted to try because they received good reviews from their customers. When we walked into the restaurant, it was full of people. After putting my name on the list and waited for 20 minutes, we were able to be seated.

We ordered one potato pizza, a seafood pasta, and even (of course) a chicken tender salad. Overall, the food was great, probably because we were all very hungry. However, there were a few things that we didn't like. The restaurant was quite small, and they didn't have many tables. (Because of its popularity, it was full of people.) We had to wait about 20 minutes to be seated and then another 30 minutes for our food to be served. That's it. Overall, I had a really great time at the restaurant with my friends.

There was a Korean barbeque restaurant that my family used to go to. That place served an amazing marinated barbeque. We grilled the meat on a grill and could eat on the spot. We ate at the restaurant at least once a month and always left with complete satisfaction. The owner always welcomed us with a great smile probably because we were regular customers there. When I was a kid, the owner also gave us some free ice cream and candy. He also allowed me and my cousins to play at the small playground next to the parking lot. Spending time at the playground was another reason why I enjoyed going there. The owner lived on the second floor, and he made the playground for his kids. I go to other Korean barbeque restaurants from time to time, but the food at that place is still the best. Once again, that restaurant was definitely the best restaurant I've ever been to.

The way people order in has become so much easier than the past. In the past, most people would just go to restaurants and enjoy their meals with their loved ones. However, things have changed a lot. People have become much busier than the past. Also, because of the pandemic, most people prefer ordering in at home. It seems that eating out is no longer a joyful event for people these days. Not only that, the delivery system in Korea is well-organized. You can easily read reviews about a restaurant and order food with one click. It takes less than an hour to get the food. I believe everything has become so much more convenient when it comes to ordering food.

Well, that's it. People used to eat out with their families or friends. But now, people prefer ordering in at home.
